

Consumer Spending Rises Along with Inflation

Retail sales rose +1.0% in June, bettering the +0.7% median forecast, as spending on gasoline, autos, restaurants and e-commerce all increased.

Scott McIntyre

Gas station sales were the biggest contributor to the overall number, up +3.6% following a +5.6% rise in May. This category accounted for 0.4 of the +1.0% gain in June. Since sales are not adjusted for inflation, the jump in gasoline sales is a direct reflection of soaring pump prices experienced last month. Since gas prices have dropped throughout July, the next report is expected to be softer.

Read the full article

Read more Economic Commentary