

Factory Manager Survey Signals Further Weakness

The U.S. factory sector contracted in May (below 50) for the second straight month and the 18th of the last 19, hinting that the economy may be weakening as summer approaches. The overall manufacturing index from the Institute of Supply Management (ISM) fell from 49.2 to 48.7 last month, slightly below the median forecast.

Scott McIntyre

Read the full article

Read more Economic Commentary