

Posted Job Openings Spike to Record High before Vacation Boom

The Job Openings and Labor Turnover Survey (JOLTS) continues to shred the argument that jobs are slow to return as the economy reopens. The survey for April showed 9.3 million available positions, obliterating the previous high of 8.3 million from just a month earlier. Prior to March, monthly openings had never topped the eight million mark.

Scott McIntyre

Download the full article

Read more Economic Commentary