

Solid Q3 GDP Headline Masks Underlying Weakness

The U.S. economy rebounded sharply in the third quarter, posting a +2.6% GDP gain (quarter-over-quarter, annualized) following two quarters of contraction. Although the headline topped the +2.4% median forecast, the underlying numbers indicate a more fragile economy going forward.

Scott McIntyre

Read the full article

Read more Economic Commentary