

Strong ISM Report is Another Log on the Fire

The outlook of U.S. factory managers in March was the brightest it's been in over 38 years. The overall manufacturing index climbed from 60.8 to 64.7, a level not seen since 1983. In this series, any reading above 50 indicates expansion, while levels above 60 are relatively rare.

Download the full article

Read more Economic Commentary