

Mayor-Elect Mamdani at the Al Crossroads Navigating Between Disruption & Opportunity

- Zohran Mamdani was elected mayor of New York City, defeating highprofile opponents with a platform focused on affordability, structural reform, and outreach to underserved communities.
- Cost of living emerged as the dominant issue, with Mamdani proposing bold policies to address economic pressures.
- Mayor-Elect Mamdani faces immediate challenges, including the disruptive rise of generative AI, which could reshape the city's workforce and economy faster than any transition since the decline of manufacturing jobs.

Read the full article

Read more Municipal Commentary

Tom Kozlik